

Blue Angels

(Harry Bird)

oh baby you're a fighter your eyes are getting brighter that's why i'm holding up a lighter holding up my phone ya been deep into the badlands but know that you're in safe hands and see whatever happens you're not alone

cos you've got blue angels watching over your head blue angels looking after you heaven bless your breath and the tired legs of the blue angel crew grim leaders tried to bleed them when sense said they should feed them and now we really need them things are getting worse blue angels on the front line sent out in sack and old twine giving everything to save life falling from earth

oh we've got blue angels watching over our heads blue angels filling the icus course you get upset jesus wept
it's a blue angel crew dooo doooo....

we've got blue angels
blue angels making the headline news

of the nhs
and the blue angel crew?
